No Cell Phones

Space is limited therefore we will fill classes on a first come, first serve basis with preference to current families and students taking a full course

Dress Code

No shorts or leggings. Jeans, pants, khakis, skirts past knees etc. are fine. Students will be warned and asked to change. Continued non-compliance with dress code will result in dismissal from co-op.

Serving Requirements

Every family is expected to help in some capacity as a part of your commitment to Co-Op.

No one is permitted to serve in the Children's Building without having their Children's Ministry application approved.

There is a two-person policy that is in place in each classroom. At least one parent will need to have a current CMVA and completed Ministry safe training on file in order to serve in the children's building where co-op is located.

Serving opportunities will be determined according to the needs of the Co-Op after registration is complete.

We know that there are some special circumstances where a parent cannot help at Co-Op. We look forward to seeing the Lord help us to find teachers for each of our classes for the upcoming year.

The beauty of Co-Op is that families are helping other families to be able to continue to homeschool through the upper grades. Our group is a ministry of volunteers and a Co-Op by design is cooperative. Please come to me directly if you have mitigating circumstances so that we can work around your needs.

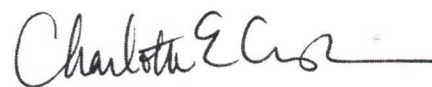

Save your family's spot!

Please fill out the attached family application, registration and fee agreement and submit with fees for this semester.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you!
